Girl dies of trauma after abuse

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — A 2-year-old Granite City girl died early Friday of traumatic injuries caused by child abuse.

Heather Nicole Watson of the 3000 block of Iowa Street died at St. Louis Children's Hospital shortly after 2 a.m. Friday.

"We have not yet received the autopsy report, but after a preliminary talk with the pathologist we feel it was a homicide," Police Chief Don Knight said Saturday.

Heather was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 8:45 p.m. Thursday by her mother, Kathy Phillips, 18, for complaints of vomiting. The child was examined by a physician and was transferred by helicopter to Children's Hospital at 10:10 p.m. St. Louis Medical Examiner Randall Hayes notified Granite City police at 3:50 a.m. Friday that Heather had died from child abuse, police said.

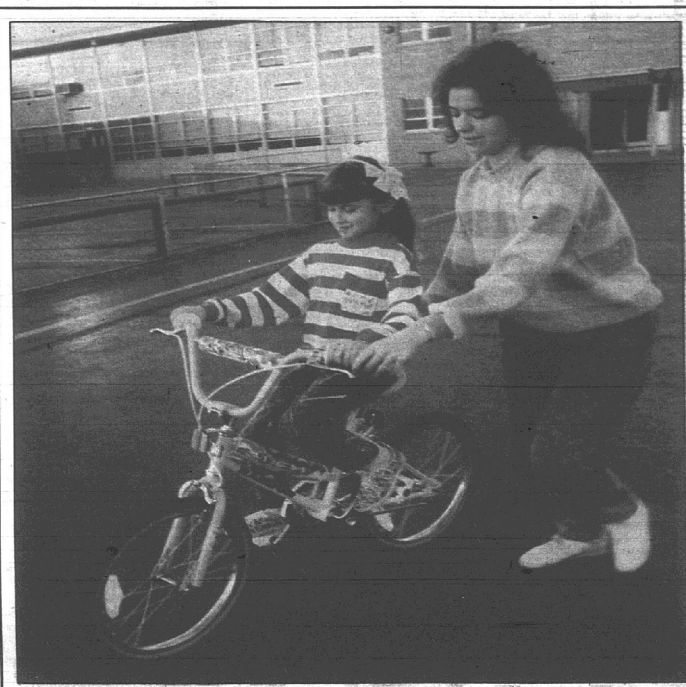

Hayes told local police that when the child was taken to surgery it was learned she had severe internal injuries apparently caused from repeated blows to the stomach area, police said.

An autopsy was performed at 8 a.m. Friday. A caseworker from the Department of Children and Family Services confirmed to police that the agency had learned that Heather had died from trauma caused by blows to the stomach. No bruises apparently were evident, the caseworker said.

The child was living with her mother and stepfather, James Phillips. Both were questioned by detectives Friday and were released, Knight said. A polygraph test was administered to the stepfather, Knight said, but the results of the test were not available.

Heather was the mother's only child. Heather is the grandchild of Donald and Sandra Abernathy of Granite City.

Private funeral services were held Friday at Weber Funeral Home at Edwardsville. Burial is pending.

Accident-prone intersection gets a look

GRANITE CITY — Two major accidents in three days have local officials questioning the safety of Illinois Route 3 at the cutoff road to Missouri Avenue.

Two drivers were injured Thursday at 1:50 p.m. Sherry A. Ridings, 31, of Bethalto, was struck broadside by a station wagon operated by Clayton Lee Johnson, 41, of the 1900 block of Fourth Street in East Madison. Johnson was making a left turn from a southbound lane and struck Ridings' car in

The impact sent Ridings' auto out of control, across a grassy depressed area and up onto northbound Missouri Avenue.

Ridings was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was treated and transferred to an Alton hospital.

Johnson went to SEMC, where he was treated in the emergency room and released to police. He was charged with failure to yield while making a left turn, driving while his license was suspended, driving without a valid registration and operating an uninsured vehicle.

Johnson appeared before a judge the same day and pleaded innocent. He was released on a $1,500 recognizance bond.

The unprotected left turn from southbound Illinois 3 onto the Missouri Avenue cutoff has been the site of some spectacular crashes, including one in August 1988 that killed five people.

Police Chief Don Knight said Friday he didn't know exactly how many there have been in the past few years, but he said there "have been some big ones."

Several city officials said the addition of traffic lights, including a left turn signal, at the intersection of West Pontoon Road and Illinois 3 have made the Missouri Avenue cutoff obsolete and it is time for the city to look at having left turns banned at Missouri Avenue.

Public Works Director Brett Hanke said the city is in the process of reviewing a number of intersections in the city that have had an inordinate number of accidents. He said the list will be taken to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

"There are IDOT funds available for fixing safety hazards," Hanke said. "The signal work at 27th Street and Madison Avenue is the result of a grant from IDOT because of the high accident rate there."

Hanke said the intersection at Missouri Avenue would be part of his review.

"If it turns out to be as bad as it appears, I see no problem selling it to IDOT," Hanke said. "There are few things IDOT likes better than limiting access to their highways. In fact the only thing they like better is not spending money."

Dale Kloor, IDOT District 8 engineer, said he was unaware of any problems with the Missouri Avenue intersection, but didn't rule out making a change.

"But we don't just do these things," he said. "There has to be a reason for doing them."

Knight said the police department is in the process of compiling accident figures for the intersection from the past year or two.

THE VICTIM of a crash at Illinois 3 and the Missouri Avenue cutoff is eased out of her car and onto a backboard before she was transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center Thursday afternoon. Sherry Ridings of Bethalto was northbound on Illinois 3 when her car was struck broadside by an auto turning left from the southbound lanes of Illinois 3. (Staff photo by Patrick Foley)

Library draws after-hours visits, stops one by foot

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The public library has been getting some after-hours visits — and not from bookworms.

Four different intrusions in less than three weeks resulted in three burglaries in which the intruders escaped unscathed, and one incident in which the intruder wasn't quite so lucky.

In the one case, a wary custodian used his foot to hold shut the door of a cabinet in which he found a man hiding after hours.

Taken in a burglary reported Jan. 19 were about $160, an electric drill and some screwdrivers.

Some cash also was missing in a burglary reported Jan. 27.

The third incident was more unusual. Because of the previous burglaries, custodian Delmar G. Foote began checking the building thoroughly after locking up each night at 9.

At 9:10 p.m. last Tuesday, Foote started searching the building to make sure no one had remained inside. When he opened a cabinet near the library's side door, he saw someone inside and immediately slammed the door shut, holding it closed with his foot.

Foote then shouted to librarian Robert Stack, who was elsewhere in the building, to call police. When officers arrived, Foote was still holding the cabinet door shut and officers found Phillip Leonard Manning, 20, inside the desk-type cabinet.

Manning, of the 800 block of North 24th Street, was charged with criminal trespass to state-supported land.

In an appearance before a judge at 2:20 p.m. Wednesday, Manning pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and was released to perform public service work to cover the fine and court costs.

The following day, police were called back to the library at 2001 Delmar Ave. at 6 a.m. An employee said a window pane had been removed from the back door and someone had again entered the building.

Officers searched the premises but no one was found inside. Nothing was immediately determined to be missing prior to the library staff checking property.

Although Manning was charged with trespass, police have not linked him to the earlier and later burglaries.

Oklahoma truck turns up at stop

A 1988 Freightliner tractor truck found at Gateway Mid-State Truck Plaza, 699 Illinois 203, was reported stolen from Oklahoma, police authorities learned Jan. 24.

The truck owned by Ryder Truck Rentals had been parked on the truck plaza lot about six days without a driver being seen around the vehicle, a Gateway employee said.

Ryder was contacted by Madison police and agreed to tow the vehicle, a spokesman in Tulsa said.

Warrants served on man

Michael Warren Simpson, 30, of the 1100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested at 2:30 a.m. Jan. 24 on Madison and Illinois State Police court-contempt warrants. He posted $250 bail and was released, pending a hearing.

Cannabis charge filed

After police saw two men huddled together at Ewing Avenue and Market Street, one of the men, Cedric Lamont McDougle, 24, of the Garesche Homes was stopped while walking south on Ewing. McDougle had a clear plastic bag in his pants pocket, containing a green leafy substance alleged to be cannabis. He was booked for possession, posting $52 bail, he was released pending a Feb. 23 appearance in the Granite City court.

Trespassing alleged

Four women were charged with criminal trespass to property when arrested Jan. 17 at the Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza, 699 Illinois 203.

Booked on the charge were Helen Anna Owens, 30, of Fairmont City, who was transferred to St. Clair County, and Debra Renee Adams, 25, of Wichita, Kan., Marquita Renee Mullein, 32, of St. Louis and Louise Lee Burrow, 26, of East St. Louis. The latter three

$900 shiner ring lost

A white gold Shiner ring with three diamonds, valued at $900, was lost while Robert Voss of the 1500 block of Cottage Avenue was with his grandson in a vacant lot near his residence, he reported Jan. 26.

16 truck tires stolen

A man in a white van picked up 16 truck tires valued at $5,000 from Wells Tri-City Tire Store, 2248 Madison Ave., Jan. 26. The tires were ordered by a trucking firm in Lebanon, a regular customer of the local store, but the trucking business did not receive the tires.

Driver, passenger hurt

Denise K. Shannon, 32, of the 2500 block of Parkway Drive was injured Jan. 25 when her car was involved in a collision with an auto operated by Terrance L. Noud, 17, of the 2500 block of Boyle Avenue. Shannon made a left turn onto Parkway Drive from a southbound lane of Maryville Road, and women were released on notices to appear for a hearing Feb. 22 in the St. Clair County Court at Belleville.

Two arrested after fight

Ronald Clay Davis, 42, of the 3200 block of Maryville Road and Deanne Darlene Hinchcliff, 24, of the 2300 block of Iowa Street were both charged under a city ordinance with fighting and assault when arrested Jan. 19 at The Bar in the 2100 block of Edwardsville Road.

Davis said the woman slapped him and threw a bottle, hitting him on the head. Others at the scene alleged Davis started the fight.

Both Hinchcliff and Davis were released on notices to appear in the Granite City court on Feb. 23.

Parked auto burglarized

A black auto-sided book bag containing three credit cards, a checkbook, 20 keys and a three-ring binder were taken from the auto of Terry Nunn of Springfield while the vehicle was parked Jan. 22 in the 600 block of West Second Street. The property was valued at $150.

Probation violation case

Gerald Maurice Baker, 26, of the Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was arrested Jan. 21 by Collinsville police on a Madison warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of driving while his license was suspended and a Madison County warrant alleging probation violation. He was transferred Jan. 23 to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Vehicle arson attempted

An arsonist attempted to set fire to a 1985 Camaro auto owned by Carl D. Snoddy of the 1200 block of Iowa Street while the vehicle was parked in the rear of Karl's Corner Tavern at the same address, it was reported Jan. 24.

Snoddy reported finding the car door open with the lock pulled out and on the ground. The back seat of the car was partially burned. No estimate of damage was available.

Office door forced open

A 13-inch color television was taken in a burglary at the J.J. Kelley Trucking Agency office at 699 Illinois 203, it was reported Jan. 20 by Jay Kelley. A door was forced to get inside the office.

Diamond rings stolen

Jerry S. Shiver of Sals, Ohio, reported Jan. 17 that he left two diamond rings in the shower room at Gateway Midstate Truck Plaza, 699 Illinois 203, and when he returned a short time later to get the rings, valued at $2,200, they had been stolen.

Burglar takes microwave

Officers searched the residence of Leonore Camp of the 900 block of Jackson Street after receiving a report that a burglary might be in progress Jan. 19.

No one was found inside the dwelling, which was in disarray, police said. The refrigerator was open and the contents were strewn about the rooms. Entry was gained by the intruder by breaking through two doors.

A microwave oven taken from the house was recovered the next day in the rear yard of a home in the 900 block of Webster Street.

Local driver charged

A Venice man allegedly left his car parked on the Madison Avenue median, walked up the Madison Post Office steps and lay down. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol at 5:10 p.m. Jan. 8.

John D. Jones, 36, of the 600 block of Jefferson Avenue was charged after a witness said a car had crossed the lawn on the side of the post office at Sixth Street and knocked over a parking sign. The vehicle continued north in a southbound lane of Madison Avenue before the driver got out of the car, leaving it in the median.

Venice police

Another man moved the vehicle to the shoulder of the road and said he had planned to offer Jones a ride home. Jones posted $102 bail and his driver's license. He was released pending a Feb. 8 appearance at the Edwardsville court.

HIGH-TECH LIBRARY: The Granite City Public Library initiated its computerized book checkout system recently, using a laser scanning "gun" similar to those used in grocery and department stores. Here, Maureen Ryan, an employee at the main library at 2001 Delmar Ave., places a book under the laser beam while checking out a book for library patron Ray McCollum on Wednesday morning. The library's branch facility on Johnson Road also is using the high-tech system that includes the "computerizing" of patrons' library cards to better track delinquent book returns.

Corrections

A typist omitted a sentence in a letter to the editor from Granite City resident Russell Mefford in Thursday's paper, resulting in some ambiguities. The following reflects the way the passage should have read:

"One of Planned Parenthood's favorite arguments favoring abortion is cases of rape and incest. Documented evidence indicates that in 1988 only 1 percent of all abortions performed were for these reasons. Of these cases, 95 percent decided on abortion for reasons other than rape or incest."

We regret the error.

The parents of Heather Withers were incorrectly given in our Madison column Thursday. They are Dennis Withers and Mary Darling Kmetz. We regret the error.

Gateway endorses Illinois 157 widening

A funding proposal to acquire additional property for the widening of Illinois Route 157 was endorsed Jan. 31 by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors.

The Illinois Department of Transportation is requesting $7.5 million in federal highway funds to acquire more right-of-way along 157.

The land would allow IDOT to add to the two-lane roadway from one to three lanes along various stretches between Schwartz Road in Edwardsville and the south access road to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to the funding proposal.

The proposed highway widening is in the early design stage, and construction is not planned to begin within the next four years, said Kent Muskopf, district planning engineer at IDOT's District 11 office in Collinsville.

The project's total cost is estimated at $10 million, with IDOT providing nearly $2.5 million and Madison County contributing part of the cost.

IDOT has not yet completed the engineering and design for the project.

Rape defense seminar set

A lecture and demonstration to help students prevent sexual assault will be held on Feb. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the St. Louis Room of Busch Memorial Center, 20 N. Grand Blvd. at Laclede Avenue, St. Louis.

The presentation, titled "Sexuality and its Relationship to Violent Crimes," will be led by Dan and Marie Lena, the husband and wife authors of "Hands Off...I'm Special!" and founders of People Against Rape.

People Against Rape was formed in 1976 "to help people to develop the self-esteem, assertiveness and positive attitude necessary to defend themselves against assault." The program now reaches more than 40,000 students annually.

The Lenas' commitment stems from personal experiences; both Dan and Marie were sexually attacked as youths.

Sponsored by the Great Issues Committee of the Student Government Association, the lecture is free and open to the public.

Women of Achievement sought

Do you know a Woman of Achievement?

The Suburban Journals and KMOX Radio are currently accepting nominations for Women of Achievement for the year 1989 from throughout the greater St. Louis area.

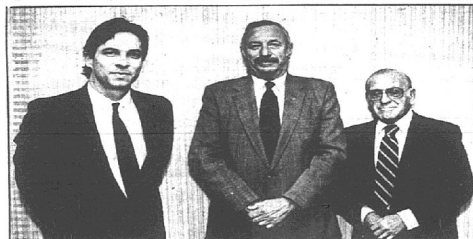

Letters of nomination should include full and specific information on the nominee. The letters should be typed or legibly written. It is important that they include the name, address and telephone number of the women being nominated and also of the person making the nomination.

If the nominee is involved in a variety of agencies, businesses, schools, churches and organizations, letters of support from these groups are helpful but not essential. Selections will not be determined by the number of nominations a woman receives; an elaborate presentation is not necessary.

Letters should be mailed to: Women of Achievement Committee, Suburban Journals, 1714 Deer Tracks Trail, St. Louis, Mo. 63131.

Nominations will be accepted through Feb. 28.

Names of the winners will be announced in the Suburban Journals and on KMOX-AM (1120) on April 18. The 10 new Women of Achievement will be announced at a luncheon in mid-May.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY recently congratulated the Suburban Journals of Greater St. Louis and the St. Louis Automobile Dealers Association for their co-sponsorship of the society's Auto Auction, a program that has raised more than $250,000 during the past four years. Troop-cut plan praised, federal budget assailed

By Sabrina Eaton
Staff writer

WASHINGTON — Legislators from Illinois and Missouri on Thursday praised troop-cut proposals in President George Bush's State of the Union Address, although Democrats complained Bush's budget scripps most in some of the areas where his speech soared highest.

"I welcome the President's proposal for greater troop reductions in Eastern Europe," said Sen. Paul Simon, D-Ill. "But overall, the President's rhetoric does not mesh with his budget."

Though Bush devoted a portion of his speech to education, Simon said, the budget only calls for a small funding increase for education. And the budget lists more than $5 billion in Medicare cuts, Simon added.

Bush's Wednesday night address called for reducing troops in Eastern Europe to 150,000 on each side, and touched on a wide range of issues including education, health care, debt reduction and the environment.

"The speech really was a thematic speech rather than a detailed speech," observed Missouri Republican Sen. John C. Danforth. "My own view is that the best line was the very strong statement about racism and bigotry. I think every President and politician should be making that point from every platform, and I'm glad he did it."

"One calling card he laid on the doorstep of every American was saying that you are the Union, you are what will make this country be competitive, be literate and continue to be a beacon to everyone throughout the world," said Rep. Jack Buechner, R-Kirkwood.

Sen. Christopher S. "Kit" Bond, R-Missouri, enthusiastically praised Bush's emphasis on investing in this nation's competitive and human capacity.

"Education, housing, protecting our environment, child care, encouraging research and development and savings, investment in the competitive infrastructure of this nation, and sticking to the Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction targets, these are the priorities that the President has set for the decade ahead," Bond said. "And these are the values Americans have held for generations."

House Majority Leader Richard A. Gephardt, D-South St. Louis, said he left the House Chamber after the speech, feeling better about the world, but unsure of America's place in it.

"After more than a year in office, I believe he should have been far more specific about how he intends to strengthen our country and lift the economic fortunes of people who work for a living," said Gephardt. "That, after all, is what the State of this Union ought to be about."

ville, said the tone of the speech was good, but he felt the talk lacked true commitment to education and senior citizens.

"It lacked substance," Costello said. "There are discrepancies between what he says and what he does."

Rep. Glenn Poshard, D-Carterville, called the presidential address and budget "a double-edged sword," praising it for implementing such programs as drug-abuse education and Head Start instruction, and criticizing it for eliminating needed student-loan programs.

"I found the actual budget not matching the rhetoric of the State of the Union address, even though I enjoyed the sincerity of the President and the eloquence of the speech," Poshard said.

"The administration budget provides neither a blueprint on where our country should go, nor a candid statement of its spending priorities," agreed Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Ill.

"Rather, we have been presented with the same kind of optimistic economic assumptions, phony numbers, fake cuts, budgetary gimmicks, and smoke and mirrors that have dominated the budgetary scene for a long time."

BAC board eyes locals for vacated trustee seat

By Meg Tebo
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — All other things being equal, the president of the Belleville Area College board would like to see a local resident, but the board chose a candidate from elsewhere, citing her qualifications.

Patricia Gonwa, a Granite City School District 9 assistant principal, applied last fall and plans to apply again this month for the BAC board.

"I'd like to see representation from Granite City. I'm very interested in education and I like the fact that BAC can serve the whole community, from early childhood to older people," she said.

Applicants for the BAC board position must submit a resume and written responses to the questions:

"Why do you want to be a trustee of Belleville Area College?"

The board last sought to fill a seat last fall, and pressure was building at that time to appoint a local resident, but the board chose a candidate from elsewhere, citing her qualifications.

Patricia Gonwa, a Granite City School District 9 assistant principal, applied last fall and plans to apply again this month for the BAC board.

"I'd like to see representation from Granite City. I'm very interested in education and I like the fact that BAC can serve the whole community, from early childhood to older people," she said.

Applicants for the BAC board position must submit a resume and written responses to the questions:

"Why do you want to be a trustee of Belleville Area College?"

"What do you feel you can contribute to the board of trustees as a member?"

The answers and a resume must be turned in by 4 p.m. Feb. 16. The address is: Office of the President, Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville, Ill. 62221.

A redistricting referendum voters approved in the November 1988 election. The referendum has delayed the next BAC election until November 1991.

In that referendum, voters authorized the Illinois State Board of Elections to redistrict BAC, which covers 2,182 square miles and all or part of six southern Illinois counties. The district will be divided into several equal areas of population, with one board member elected from each area.

Lydia Circle now considers projects

The January meeting of Lydia Circle of Nameoki United Methodist Church was held in the home of Tharah Erney. After a dessert luncheon, President Mary Bailey opened the meeting.

The devotions were given by Gladys Russell. She read the Bible verse, 1 Corinthians, 13:4 and the story, "Through the Eyes of Love."

Secretary and Treasurer reports were given. Pledges for 1989 were given out to members of Nameoki United Methodist Women. Birthday and Least Coin monies were collected.

Mary Bailey asked for suggestions for a group project. It was decided to have a scrapbook. Dorothy Asford will be the chairman.

Other members attending were: Millie Clements, Ruby Gunderson, Marie Long, Bess Rucker, Miss Sayers, Dorothy Wallace and Marie Isenberg.

Night driving requires caution

Driving safely at night is difficult because you cannot see as far or as well as you can during the day. Here are some tips for the driver at the Office of the Illinois Secretary of State.

1. "Avoid overdriving your headlights, which the National Safety Council says is the most persistent problem in night driving. Reduce your speed so you can stop within the distance lighted by your headlights (about 350 feet).

2. "As you look down the highway, gaze farther ahead into the area that is barely illuminated. You may be able to see the faint glow of a distant headlight or other movement that will alert you to a possible hazard."

3. "Dim your headlights when you are within 500 feet of an approaching vehicle. If you are blinded suddenly by the bright headlights of an oncoming vehicle, turn your eyes away from the lights and use the right edge of the road to guide you."

4. "Increase your following distance at night. Dim your headlights when you are within 300 feet (the length of a football field) of the vehicle in front of you."

5. "Never stop on the road at night unless you have a flat tire or another emergency. If you must stop, pull as far off the road as possible. Use an illuminated or reflective device, such as a flare or reflecting triangle, to alert other drivers of your presence."

Children in protective custody; baby injured

GRANITE CITY — Detectives are continuing to conduct a parallel criminal investigation with an investigation by the Illinois Department of Children and Family Services into the battery of an 8-month-old girl who suffered skull fractures on two separate occasions.

The injured baby, her twin sister and a younger sister of the twins are now in protective custody, a detective said Thursday.

Local police were alerted Jan. 29 by a DCF case worker who said an investigation was launched by her agency Jan. 12 after a report was received that a child had suffered a skull fracture and was hospitalized.

The mother of the child said the injury was accidentally caused by a neighbor boy.

On Jan. 26, the caseworker said she responded to a "hot line" call from St. Elizabeth Medical Center that the same baby had suffered a second skull fracture.

The injured child's twin sister also was found to have suffered severe bruising of the head.

The twin girl suffering her second skull fracture was transferred to Children's Hospital, St. Louis, where she was admitted for treatment of the head injury and bruises to the head and face.

DCFS authorities took protective custody of all three girls, including the younger infant, at that point and a criminal investigation was launched by Granite City police.

"We are still working on the case," a detective said Thursday.

The injured twin still was hospitalized. She and the two other children will continue to remain under protective care, he said.

Only a few companies in state observing Lincoln's birthday

Only 0.6 percent of Illinois firms surveyed observe Lincoln's Birthday (Feb. 12) as a paid holiday, according to the Management Association's holiday survey. Slightly more (7.4 percent) observe Washington's birthday.

In the survey, there were 524 responding firms.

Tax checkoff for homeless offered

Illinois taxpayers have an opportunity this year to help persons who are homeless, acting Public Aid Director Kathleen Kustra said.

"At least 50,000 Illinois residents are in need of shelter right now, and that need multiplies during the winter months," Kustra said.

"This year, Illinois taxpayers can help, by designating a contribution to the Assistance to the Homeless Fund on their Illinois income tax returns."

The Assistance to the Homeless Fund is listed on all Illinois income tax forms. Persons wanting to donate any amount over $10 to the fund should enter the amount on line 11d.

"Every dollar we receive helps provide shelter and food to another homeless family," Kustra said. "On the average, a $10 donation provides nine meals, or one night of shelter for someone without a home."

Charity dinner auction set

Volunteers are seeking donations for the annual dinner/auction to be held Jan. 31 in support of the National Foundation for Ectodermal Dysplasias at Our Lady of the Snows Dooley Center.

Donations help support the families with children who have this rare birth defect.

For a donation or information, the NFED can be called at 566-2020.

For reservations for the dinner/auction, Martha Van Aken can be called at 537-2710.

Freeman's work verifies 'great actor' label

MORGAN FREEMAN PLAYS Rawlins, who rises to the rank of sergeant major in the Union Army in "Glory."

After his appearance in the film "Street Smart" in 1987, for which he was given numerous honors, including Academy Award and Golden Globe nominations for best actor, Morgan Freeman was referred to by Pauline Kael of The New Yorker as the "greatest American actor."

Freeman has done little to discredit that claim. Throughout his recent film credits, a list that includes critically acclaimed roles in the movies "Clean and Sober," "Lean on Me" and the new release "Glory," and after many awards on Broadway, Freeman's talent and acting reputation are gathering positive momentum faster than any other current performer.

Freeman's newest film project is a motion picture from Warner

Harry Hamm

Brothers called "Driving Miss Daisy." Based on the still running off-Broadway hit of the same title by Alfred Uhry, who also wrote the screenplay for the film version, Freeman plays a black chauffeur named Hoke Colburn who is hired to drive a 72-year-old Southern Jewish matron in Atlanta. The matron is played by Jessica Tandy.

Freeman originated the role of Hoke in New York. As depicted on stage and in the film, the relationship between Tandy's and Freeman's characters is shown over 25 years and reflects two decades of social change.

"Some roles reach out and grab you and no matter what, you've got to do them," Freeman says. "You just settle into them like old shoes and Hoke was one of those parts for me."

"I remember being floored when I first read the play. I just knew Hoke so intimately. I suppose it has to do with my own background, and the South, and my deep and abiding appreciation for those kinds of people... who they were, how they lived and why. In some respects, this may seem like a regional piece. But I've no doubt that the relationships among all the characters are mirrored all over this country."

Uhry says "Morgan brings a dimension of understanding to the role that from the very beginning has to do with things that I couldn't write and can barely explain. It's a combination of irony, dignity and humility that's quite indefinable."

Freeman made his stage debut off-Broadway in 1967 with "The Niggerlovers." He followed with his Broadway debut in "Hello, Dolly!" opposite Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway and he then took over the lead in the hit musical "Purlie."

As he is with most things he expresses a public opinion on, the 52-year-old Freeman is straight-forward about the question of his preference of stage over film.

"It isn't that I don't enjoy making movies," Freeman says. "But for me, having a strong background in theater has made me a much better actor on film."

Playing Civil War vet taught actor lesson

By Harry Hamm
For the Journal

Denzel Washington, the 35-year-old native of Mount Vernon, N.Y., is evolving as one of his generation's most capable and talented actors.

Many moviegoers remember his work in "City of Hope," a 1987 film in which he played anti-apartheid activist Steven Biko while co-starring with Kevin Kline, a graduate of St. Louis Priory. Washington also is widely recognized for his stint as Dr. Phillip Chandler from 1982 to 1989 in the popular television series, "St. Elsewhere."

But Washington believes the most important role of his young career is that of Trip, a runaway slave who fights for the Union Army in "Glory," the new TriStar release. Trip, rebellious and bitter after fleeing the South, becomes one of the original members of the Civil War's first black fighting unit, the 54th Regiment of Massachusetts.

"Before anyone ever came to me about appearing in this film, I had no knowledge at all about the involvement of black soldiers in the Civil War," Washington said. "It becomes all the more ridiculous when you remember that I consider myself sensitive to things like that and also because throughout all my education, I was a history buff."

But in all the history he has taken, Washington said the 200,000 blacks that fought in the Civil War weren't mentioned.

"Now I feel it is important that we as a society know that these men did fight," he said. "They distinguished themselves, and while I can't say whether or not they changed the course of the war, I do know they made a vital contribution.

"They fought as hard as the white soldiers and that makes me feel proud, prouder than ever, in fact, to call myself an American."

As Washington plays him, Trip is a real scrapper.

"He's a scavenger and a survivor," Washington said. "His concerns are simple. He wants good shoes and some respect. Before the war, he was like a dead man, unable to speak up or be a real person. He didn't have any real identity."

"In the war, Trip gets, for the first time in his life, the chance to complain and speak up. His anger really comes to the surface, as you might imagine it would after years of suppression."

The filming of "Glory" was accomplished, in great measure, on locations in and around Savannah, Ga. Principal photography began Feb. 9, 1989.

"I was kind of surprised we didn't have any minor incidents with such a large black cast in an area like Savannah, considering their (the city's) past and that this is a film about the Civil War," Washington said.

"There were a few remarks made and some of the local people who were hired as extras refused to wear a Union Army uniform. But other than minor things like that, it all went very smoothly."

Next up for Washington is "Heart Condition," a comedy in which he plays a dead man who returns as a ghost when his heart is transplanted into the body of a police detective, played by British actor Bob Hoskins. Washington also has just finished work in a new, as yet untitled Spike Lee film in which he plays a jazz musician.

But for the time being Washington is gaining critical acclaim for his work in "Glory," he finished a close second to Alan Alda in balloting of the New York Film Critics Circle for best supporting actor. Alda's film: "Crimes and Misdemeanors."

Washington is considered by the Hollywood establishment to be a very strong candidate for a nomination in the same category by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences when the Oscar nominations are announced Feb. 14.

The product of a religious family, Washington's father was a Pentecostal minister who kept tabs on all his activities, including the kind of movies he saw.

"I think about my dad when I consider scripts that are sent to me," Washington said. When I was a kid, we only saw what my father thought were worthwhile films, things like "The Ten Commandments" and "101 Dalmatians."

"These days, when I get scripts that I don't think much of, but ones that carry big pay days, I think about what my father might say and it's kind of a guideline. I've appeared in some bad pictures. But overall, I've never taken a film just for the money."

Keene, Kahoks top Warriors

By Jim Woodcock
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The Warriors have made it a habit to either win or lose in thrilling fashion the past several weeks. At home Friday, it appeared Granite City would perform a similar act.

Instead, Collinsville's Richard Keene killed the dramatics in the fourth quarter by sinking everything he shot: A three-pointer to open the quarter, two field goals and two free throws with one minute to go. Keene's nine points were more than the Warriors Granite scored (seven) the entire fourth quarter, and he helped the Kahoks ease to a 53-40 Southwestern Conference win.

The final margin was suggestive of the way the game, and Keene, started. The Kahoks rolled to a 13-1 lead in the first five minutes, with Keene scoring nine on three-pointers and making five steals during the run.

But the Warriors reduced a 14-point Collinsville lead (19-5) to 29-21 by halftime and came within four points of the lead three times during the third quarter. Given that switch in momentum, Kahok coach Bob Bone was somewhat impressed that his team withstood the challenge.

"I was concerned about having to come over here," Bone said. "They're not a bad ballclub, in fact, they're a pretty good ballclub. Since we played them the first time and since our tournament, I've been worrying about this being a tough game for us to win."

"We did what we had to do. We slowed it down a lot in the end and with their big kids they don't have the ability to pressure a lot. We played well early and Richard got us going."

Keene finished with 27 points, 18 coming on three-pointers over Granite City's zone. Wingman Mike Chaney chipped in with 12 important points, most of them from the near perimeter on occasions when the Warriors extended on Keene.

Bone thinks Keene is an all-state candidate despite his sophomore standing. Granite City coach Bill Ohlendorf is suitably impressed with Keene as well.

"We lost track of Keene a few times down the floor," Ohlendorf said. "We didn't extend far enough on him. You've got to be able to play him man-to-man, but if you play defensively in our concept you have to know where he is."

"Also, we just didn't do enough offensively early. We didn't get good shots. We made a few adjustments and we later were getting movement. We didn't have earlier. That's what caused us to get behind early."

The Warriors were able to win the battle inside with 67 sophomore twins Brian and Jeff Smith. Brian led Granite City with 13 points and Jeff scored nine, compared to eight from the Kahoks' Kris Kathmann and only two from Kyle Jones, who was in foul trouble all night.

However, the Kahoks held two Granite City starters scoreless — seniors John Van Buskirk and Matt Cook. Cook and the Warriors' other main three-point threat, Joe Wallace, spent much of the evening on the bench. Collinsville also forced 11 Granite City turnovers, most of them early when the Kahoks appeared poised to hammer the Warriors.

"We had Jones on the bench with foul trouble, so I'm just pleased to get out of here," Bone said. "We're down to three more games in the conference now. Of course, that puts pressure on us for these games."

The win enabled the Kahoks, 17-4 and 7-0, to stay a game and a half ahead of East St. Louis in the league race. The Flyers (15-4, 5-1) kept pace Friday with an easy 102-69 win at home over Belleville East.

Meanwhile, Granite City (9-10, 2-5) lost its fourth straight game and its fifth in six outings. The defeat also dropped the Warriors below the 500 mark for the first time this season, but Ohlendorf still was able to find merit in his team's performance.

"I was very encouraged by the effort," he said. "It was a good high school contest. I think Collinsville knew they were here. We competed, but just weren't able to come up offensively. That's been a bugaboo for us all season."

The Warriors were to play in Edwardsville on Saturday. Details of that game will be in Wednesday's Journal.

JIMMY STUART, who played high school baseball in Granite City along with Dal Maxvill, was inducted into the Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame on Thursday after a long and successful coaching career at Columbia High School.

COLUMBIA — It was Jim Stuart who was recently elected to the Illinois High School Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame, but Stuart is not about to take all the credit for the honor himself.

"I'm smart enough to know you don't win without the horses, and I've always had the horses," he said.

Stuart, a Granite City native, said he has seen quite a few talented players come and go during his 29 years as a baseball coach, which includes the last 20 at Columbia, 25 miles south of Granite City.

"I'm proud of every kid that has ever played for me," he said. "They're the ones that made this honor possible. Someday I hope to thank every one of them individually."

The Eagle coach was inducted into the hall along with five other Illinois high school baseball coaches at the 12th Annual Hall of Fame Dinner on Friday in Lisle, Ill., near Chicago.

"I'm proud of the honor," Stuart said. "It surprised me. I didn't know it was coming. I thought they usually wait until you retire."

Stuart took some impressive credentials with him to the banquet. Among the statistics he has racked up at Columbia are a career 331-227 record, three conference championships, one regional championship and one Class A state championship in 1987.

The 1987 Eagle team, which went 28-8, was something special, Stuart recalled.

"The 1987 team stands out," he said. "We knew that we had a good ballclub. The chemistry was there and they just didn't do anything wrong. The team had good hitting, pitching and defense. There was a lot of talent on that club."

That state championship is Columbia's lone championship in any sport, which is not to say Stuart's other clubs were not worthy to win a championship.

"The 1973 team was a good one, too," the coach said. "They won district, then got beat in the finals of the regional by Collinsville. Ken Oberkell, who later starred with the St. Louis Cardinals, got two of (Collinsville's) three hits and drove in both of their runs in that game. The score was 2-0."

Achieving anything in the baseball hotbed of southwestern Illinois is not easy, Stuart said.

"Trying to win in the Cahokia Conference has been the toughest part of coaching," he said. "It's probably the toughest conference in the state, class-wise."

"There have been five teams from the area that have won the state championship — Columbia, New Athens, Marietta, Carlyle and Freeburg. It's a good baseball area."

Success on the field, however, has been only part of the pleasure of coaching.

"The best part was having a lot of good talent around you and kids that love to play the game and are willing to learn," he said.

"That's what makes coaching worthwhile. Also, seeing your kids go on to play college ball and grow up to be good citizens is nice."

Stuart has seen 26 of his players advance to the college ranks, three of whom (Bob Blank, Steve Horak and Larry Pierson) went on to play professionally. Pierson is currently in the Cardinal farm system.

Stuart was a third baseman at Granite City High School under head coach Al Lewis in the late 1950s. He played college ball at Missouri Valley College in Marshall, Mo.

"My main thing was I played next to Dal Maxvill in high school," he said. "I made him what he is today. He played short and I played third. They got a good look at his range."

Stuart has also been a head coach in basketball and an assistant coach in football, but baseball is his game.

"Baseball is my favorite sport," he said. "I enjoy the challenge of making a new breed of kids become a team every year. Also, any size kid can play it. That's why I like it. It gives a chance for the little kids to play."

Stuart, 52, has a way to go before he catches the tenure of his predecessor at Columbia, Vernon Smith. Stuart was an assistant coach for one year under Smith, who was the Eagle skipper for 35 years. Stuart said it is possible that he will match Smith's time at the Columbia baseball helm.

"It depends on how I feel," he said.

"Right now, I'm feeling young, full of vim and vigor. When I lose that, I'll stop."

Lady Warriors blast Cahokia before Senior Night audience

GRANITE CITY — The Lady Warriors geared up for the East St. Louis Regional by routing Cahokia 71-35 on Thursday.

It was Senior Night as Granite City (16-5) honored departing seniors Jennifer Cavaness, Michelle Bequette, Kim Pawlak and Priscilla Meyenburg. The Lady Warriors came out in red-hot fashion in the opening quarter against the inexperienced Lady Comanches (4-17) to take a commanding 24-8 lead.

Granite City extended the lead to 38-19 at halftime before sealing the verdict in the third period with a 21-point outburst. Cavaness (16 points and eight rebounds) and sophomore Karen Sykes (six points) ignited the offense by scoring 12 points in the period. Leading 59-32 after the third quarter, Granite City coasted to a 71-35 victory. Meyenburg had eight points in the first quarter and finished third with Cavaness for scoring honors with 16 points.

"This game was an emotional boost for us following our loss to Belleville West (on Tuesday)," said Granite City coach Allen Lobdell. "It was Senior Night and our girls were really pumped up for the game. They came out with an aggressive style in the opening period and ended the issue. But I feel like this team hasn't lived up to its potential all year."

"I've watched these girls in practice every night and I've seen what they're capable of doing. But when it comes to a game situation we seem to let our nerves dictate our execution. We tend to make a mistake which brings on four or five more. And it's basically a lack of concentration on our part or that the girls become too concerned about perfecting their execution and they try too hard."

Addie Lenzi quarterbacked the offense by scoring a career-high 15 points and handing out seven assists. She made all six of her field goal attempts, including two three-pointers in the first quarter when she scored 10 points. The junior point guard also made her presence felt on the defensive end by producing four steals. In all, the Lady Warriors forced Cahokia into 24 turnovers.

"Addie is beautiful to watch," said Lobdell. "She's done a good job running our offense. Addie runs the floor very well and she's very strong on the perimeter. She shoots the ball well and she's also capable of finding the open man in the lane."

"They just drilled us in the opening period," said Cahokia coach Greg Crockett, who saw his team lose its fourth straight game. "Granite City was full of fire. They honored their seniors before the game and they had at least 200 people in the stands. It was a great atmosphere to play in."

Regional pairings set for boys, girls

For the third time in four years, the Warriors will be East St. Louis Lincoln's first roadblock on the way to a state championship. This year Granite City will try to cut the Tigers short.

The Warriors are the No. 3 seed in the Granite City Class A Regional to be held Feb. 27-March 2 at Memorial Gymnasium. They will face the three-time defending state champion Tigers in the second semifinal game on Feb. 27. Top-seeded East St. Louis will face No. 4 seed Cahokia in the first game at 6:30 p.m. The Granite City Lincoln game will start approximately 30 minutes after the conclusion of the first game.

Last year the Warriors finished off an otherwise forgettable 7-19 season with a shockingly close 61-57 to Lincoln in the first round of the East St. Louis Regional. This Granite City team is better than last year's while this Lincoln team might not quite be on a par with last year's. With the Warriors playing in front of the home fans, anything is possible.

The winners of Tuesday's games will meet at 7:30 p.m. March 2 for the regional title, with the winner joining regional winners from Alton, Edwardsville and Belleville East in the East St. Louis Sectional on March 6-9. The winner there goes to the Carbondale Super-Sectional on March 13 against the Benton Sectional winner and then on to the Class AA state tournament in Champaign on March 16-17.

In Class A, the Red Devils received the top seed and a first-round bye in what should be a very tough Freeburg Regional on Feb. 19-22. Madison will play Lovejoy in the first game at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 19, with the winner to play Venice in the second game at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 21. Lebanon, probably Venice's stiffest challenge in the regional, will face Dupu while Freeburg takes on Belleville Althoff, a newcomer to the Class A field — in other games on Feb. 20. The

ALL-AMERICANS: Warrior soccer coach Gene Baker claimed three All-Americans during 1989. Jennifer Debevo was a first-team All-American for secondary schools after an outstanding senior season for the Lady Warriors. Jim Chormko was a college All-American for the University of Wisconsin-Parkside and will play in the college senior bowl in Las Cruces, N.M., in April. Debevo and Chormko received these plaques at the National Soccer Coaches Association of America banquet in Cincinnati on Jan. 13. Warrior senior John Van Buskirk also was an All-American, but was unable to attend the banquet due to his play with the Warrior basketball team. Soccer legend Pele was on hand to congratulate each All-American.

wingers of those two games will play on Feb. 22 and the title game is at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 23.

The Freeburg winner will face the Greenville Regional winner—probably Weslin—in the Vandalia Sectional semifinals at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 27. Regional winners from Raymond Lincoln and St. Elmo will also be in Vandalia. The championship game is at 7:30 p.m. March 2. The winner will meet the Bridgeport Red Hill Sectional winner in the Charleston Super-Sectional on March 6, with the winner advancing to the Class A state tournament in Champaign on March 9-10.

In girls Class AA, the Lady Warriors will be a heavy favorite at this week's East St. Louis Regional. Granite City plays Roxana at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday while Cahokia faces East St. Louis after that game. The winners meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8 for the championship. While the Lady Warriors have 16 wins, their three opponents in the regional have combined for only nine.

The regional winner will join winners from Edwardsville, Belleville West and Jerseyville in the Highland Sectional on Feb. 13-15. Jerseyville (23-1) and Highland (19-3) are heavy favorites in the Jerseyville and Edwardsville regionals, respectively. Unbeaten East St. Louis Lincoln (19-0) will be severely tested at Belleville West by either the host Maroons (23-3) or Belleville East (16-0). The Highland Sectional winner meets the Benton Sectional winner in the Collinsville Super-Sectional at 7 p.m. Feb. 19. The winner advances in the state tournament in Champaign on Feb. 22-24.

In Class A, Madison (2-12) will face Dupu (2-14) in the Brussels Regional on Monday at 7:30 p.m. The winner will face top-seeded Brussels at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Alton Marquette and Columbia are also in the regional.

in and hopefully our girls will learn something from this for next season.

"I wish our parents would come out and support our kids like they do here at Granite City. It means so much to a team when the stands are filled with supporters. And that support must come from the parents. We only had one fan at the game tonight and we brought him."

The Lady Warriors and Cahokia will probably meet again next week in the regional final. Granite City has been seeded first in the four-team field at East St. Louis while the Lady Comanches were seeded second. Granite City will play Roxana (2-16) Tuesday at East St. Louis (Se.). High School while Cahokia takes on the host Flyerettes in the second game. East St. Louis (3-13) has won two in a row following an 18-game losing streak.

"We're definitely not going into the regional overconfident," said Lohdel. "It's a new season and anything can happen. But I do feel good about the way we're playing right now. We're capable of playing well the majority of the time but we still tend to have that two- or three-minute lapse against the good teams. Hopefully, we can avoid that during the post-season."
